The Governor of Virginia, in his message to the Legislature, favors pure elections. When pure men are are running for office, all right, governor.

We notice that people with big money go right on disappearing. We might blow away ourself if our financial condition would warrant a stunt of that kind.

A North Carolina paper says the gubernatorial campaign is now stirring up the natives. We rather think the grub-anatorial campaign is stirring up the most of us.

It is said that in Paris there are half as many divorces as there are marriages. Probably the couples were just half married, and then again "true love never did run smooth."

A negro giant fell into the hands of the Asheville police a few days ago for beating his wife. His name is Major Dalton and he is six feet and 6½ inches tall and weighs 239 pounds.

Senator Smoot, the Mormon, keeps on declaring that he hasn't got but one wife. This denial may puzzle the Congress of Mothers, but maybe Smoot calls those others by some other name than wife.

The Jap minister at Washington tells Secretary Hay that his government has fired the last diplomatic wad at Russia. We will shortly see how the wad strikes the Russian bear, and whether it will make him hug or claw and bite.

A cablegram from Paris says France and great Britain will make a joint offer of their "good offices" to Russia and Japan. The United States has no good offices to offer, the whole entire lot of offices over here not being enough to go around among the Republicans.

The cotton boll weevil money, $250,000, appropriated by Congress to investigate the boll weevil and put on foot some measure to get rid of the pest, is now ready. A whole lot of fellows who don't know a boll weevil from a giasscutus are also ready.

It is said by the Washington correspondents that former Republican Congressman Tom Settle has things coming his way. He was consulted by Roosevelt at the White House a few days ago, but as to what transpired Mr. Settle is mum. Probably that conference will settle some North Carolina aspirants' hash.

HOBSON COMING THIS WEEK.

Famous Naval Hero Will Lecture in Y. M. C. A. Auditorium Wednesday Evening.

The famous hero of the naval climax, the sinking of the "Merrimac" in Santiago harbor, will appear in the Y. M. C. A. Star Course Series next Wednesday evening. Captain Hobson's supurb personality is equal to the full measure of an ideal hero; and his discourse "The Navy, Its Achievements, Its Importance," is delivered with much force and oratorical effect.

Capt. Hobson is not a heroic freak for exhibition purposes, but his discourse is said to be food for men, and those who desire historical information of the world's navies and a description of the wonderful possibilities of America, as mistress of the sea. The box sheet opens at DeRosset's Monday morning. Reserved seats $1.

Capt. James I. Metts has been chosen chief marshal of the occasion and he has announced the programme for the day. The procession will form at 2:30 P. M. on Market street in front of the W. L. I. armory, the right resting on Fourth street. The order will be as follows:

The procession will move promptly at 3 o'clock down Market street to Front; thence on Front to Red Cross; on Red Cross to Third; down Third to Princess and thence to the Academy of Music. The programme of exercises there will be as follows:

All Confederate veterans of good standing are invited to join the parade and participate in the ceremonies.

After the exercises at the Academy of Music, the Daughters of the Confederacy will serve lunch in the City Hall for those who participated in the parade.

All commanders will have their respective companies in line at 2:45 P. M. The Daughters of the Confederacy are requested to assemble at the armory at 2:30 P. M. for the purpose of attending the exercises in a body. The public generally is invited.

MR. KNEBEL WILL SPEAK.

Men's Meeting at Y. M. C. A. This Afternoon—The "Blues" Rally.

Mr. A. G. Knebel, who lately resigned the Y. M. C. A. State secretaryship of North and South Carolina to begin work under the auspices of the International Committee, with headquarters in New York, will be the speaker at the men's meeting in the Association auditorium here at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Knebel is a very talented speaker and will have for his subject, "The Marks of a Christian Man." There will be special music. All men are invited.

The "Blues," the membership team captained by Mr. R. H. Pickett, held a preliminary meeting in the Association building last night and decided to give a social next Friday evening. Features of the gathering will be an o'possum supper, a basket ball game from the business men's department, music and refreshments. The "Blues" are wide awake in the contest they are waging with the "Whites" and do not propose to be outdistanced. The rally Friday night will be great.

To Arrange Court Calendar.

The attorneys of the Wilmington bar met yesterday morning at the office of Col. Jno. D. Taylor, clerk of the Superior Court, and inasmuch as there is so much uncertainty about the matter, the arrangement of a calendar of civil cases for the term of court beginning next week was delegated to a committee composed of Messrs. Eugene S. Martin, Jno. H. Gore and Thos. W. Davis. Mr. Eugene S. Martin presided at the meeting and the committee was instructed to report at another meeting of the attorneys next Saturday at the same hour.

Portable Wood Saw Outfit.

Jno. H. Whiteman, the well known colored wood dealer, is the inventor of a portable wood saw, which he exhibited on the street at several places yesterday. The saw outfit is mounted on wheels and is drawn by two horses. The motive power is a two-horse gasoline engine and the saw is warranted to cut a quarter of a cord of ordinary wood in 11 minutes.

Building Permits.

The following building permits were granted yesterday: J. H. Strauss, one-story, frame, tin-roof building on west side of Fourth, between Hanover and Brunswick. J. H. Burris for Independent Ice Company, one-story frame, paper-roof building at Seventh and Brunswick.

NIGHT WITH THE POLICE.

Officer C. E. Wood Had Bloody Encounter With a Negro—Young White Man Stabbed Another.

Policeman C. E. Wood had a bloody encounter late last night with Anderson Evans, a big framed negro whom he arrested for being drunk and disorderly in an alley, running from Fourth, between Church and Castle streets. Evans had raised a general row at a negro house in the alley, and Policeman Wood went in to quell the disturbance. The big negro at once began to resist violently, and the officer began to shower blows from his club upon the African's cranium with the result that he was finally willing to be quiet. The negro was sent down to the police station in the patrol wagon and Dr. Harper, city superintendent of health, had to be called upon to patch up his scalp. After the negro had been sent down, Policeman Wood began to take account of himself and found that Evans had stabbed him through the nose. He went to Hall's drug store, where his wounds were dressed.

While the negro's wound was being dressed at the City Hall, Ed. Shepard and Henry Styron, two well known young white men, came to the station. Shepard had a bad stab on the back of his hand which he said Styron had inflicted in front of C. B. Bellois' place, on Market street. The young men seem to have been frolicing among themselves and Styron threw up his hand, holding an open knife, to ward off a blow or gesture from Shepard. Dr. Harper took several stitches in the gash and told Shepard he would be all right in a day or two.

FUNERAL OF MISS AMY BRADLEY

Services Will be Conducted from Tileston High School This Afternoon.

The funeral of the lamented Miss Amy Morris Bradley, whose death was announced yesterday, will be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the assembly hall of Tileston High School, to which institution Miss Bradley devoted her life work and to which she was tenderly devoted to the end of her useful existence. The services will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. The remains will be removed to the school building this morning at 10 o'clock and will lie in state there until the hour for the funeral.

Mr. George B. Randlett, a nephew of Miss Bradley, will arrive this morning from Richmond, Me., and will accompany the remains to their last resting place at Brattleboro, Me., on the northbound A. C. L. train this evening. The funeral arrangements are being made by Miss Mary L. Alderman, to whom Miss Bradley was strongly attached and who gave her in return the strictest devotion and most tender care in the closing hours of Miss Bradley's long and honorable career.

WOULD-BE NEGRO HIGHWAYMAN.

Constable Savage Opportunely Saved Sailor from Robbery—Another Case.

While serving a number of alias warrants from Justice Bornemann's court before day yesterday morning, Constable Savage heard an outcry on the streets near Eighth and Castle. He hastened to investigate and found John Lane, colored, in an attempt to rob L. W. Gibson, a negro sailor, who was in company with a negro woman named Gertrude Davis. It was the woman who uttered the cry of distress in behalf of the sailor and Lane smashed her over the head with a rock. The obstreperous highwayman was lodged in jail and was yesterday held by Justice Bornemann for the Superior Court in a justified bond of $100 in each of two cases against him for an attempted highway robbery and assault with a deadly weapon. Lane went to jail.

During the same tour of Constable Savage just before day yesterday, Jim Jackson, colored, was arrested and sentenced by Justice Bornemann to 30 days on the roads for old costs.

Miss Sallie Burgwin Dead.

Friends in the city will hear with regret of the death of Miss Sallie P. Burgwin, which occurred yesterday forenoon at her home, No. 323 South Fourth street, in the 80th year of her age. Miss Burgwin is survived by her niece, Mrs. John L. Mafflit. The funeral will be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon from St. James Episcopal church and the remains will be laid to rest in Oakdale.

Big Tobacco Shipment.

Five car loads of leaf tobacco, purchased on the floors of the Wilmington Tobacco Warehouse by Richmond firms, were shipped to the Virginia city via the Atlantic Coast Line Friday. The prices here are now ruling generally a little better. The warehouse management expects to sell at least 100,000 pounds more of the yellow leaf before the season is closed.

Charged With Abandonment.

In Justice Fowler's court yesterday a case was called in which ex-Policeman W. B. Brown is charged with abandonment of his wife, Mrs. Mary L. Brown. In the absence of one of defendant's witnesses, the case was continued until next Saturday. The defendant has given bond in the sum of $50 with his father as surety.

LIFE CRUSHED OUT.

Coast Line Yard Conductor Victim of Fatal Accident Yesterday Afternoon.

DIED WITHIN THREE HOURS.

Robert J. Rhodes, Young Man Well Known in Wilmington—Foot Caught While Breaking a Couple Between Moving Cars.

While engaged in uncoupling moving cars attached to a shifting engine on the lower A. C. L. yards in this city yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock, Yard Conductor R. J. Rhodes, 23 years of age, caught his foot between the main and a guide rail at the Nutt street crossing, near the office of H. L. Voliers, and was thrown under the train, receiving injuries from which he died three hours later at the James Walker Memorial Hospital, to which he was removed in the ambulance soon after the accident. Young Mr. Rhodes was quite well known in Wilmington, having been once employed on the street cars, and the news of his tragic death was received with regret by many friends throughout the city.

The yard conductor at the time of the accident was superintending the placing of some cars at various stations in the yards. A flat loaded with heavy granite curbing had been backed with others toward the river and while the train was yet in motion, Mr. Rhodes went between the cars, cut the flat loose and was going to switch it under its own momentum, while the train pulled the other cars beyond the switch. It was just after uncoupling the car that his foot caught on the guard rail. He fell across the track, his head on the outside, and one truck of the granite laden car passed over the body. Both legs were mashed almost completely off, the right one just above the knee and the left one just below. He was also horribly mangled about the abdomen and had a few bruises about his head and face where he fell and was dragged along for a short distance. The unfortunate man was hurried to the hospital but he died from the shock resulting from the injuries before the wounds were fully dressed.

Mr. Rhodes was a son of Mr. W. D. Rhodes, 120 Castle street, and leaves to mourn their loss his father and mother, and a sister, Miss Ada Rhodes, and several brothers, one of whom is Mr. Clayton Rhodes. The remains were removed to the home of the parents of the young man early last night and the funeral will be conducted from there this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The interment will be in Bellevue.

RUSSELL LEAVES FOR HOSPITAL.

The Washington correspondent of the Charlotte Observer writes:

"It was acknowledged to-day by the friends of the Russells that the President would not take favorable action upon the recommendation of Mrs. Russell, unless that note to Miss Darby is cleared up in some way. All hands will probably rest on this for a few days, as Judge Russell will tomorrow go to the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, where he will consult physicians. Judge Russell has not been well for some time. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Russell and, during their absence from Washington, their interests will be looked after by former Senator Butler."

Bowling Alley Contest.

The most exciting game of the tournament at the Pastime Bowling Alley was played last night between the Bankers and Capt. Davis' team. The first named won in a score of 2,205 to 2,187. The Bankers made the highest score in the tournament games. The highest individual score was by Mr. H. Davis—188—and he also made the highest average for his team—159. Mr. Geo. Crow made the highest score on Capt. Davis' team, 183. He also made the highest average for his team, 168. The wonder of the game was that Capt. Davis' team was 178 pins ahead on the first two games and on the third game the Bankers caught up the odds and beat them out 8 pins.

Lunatic Sent to County Home.

Joseph Albro, the negro lunatic captured on Wrightsville sound a few days ago by Mr. Clyde Montgomery, of this city, and who was sent to jail here by Deputy Sheriff Cox, to whom Mr. Montgomery turned the negro over, was yesterday afternoon sent out to the County Home, from which he had escaped instead of the asylum at Goldsboro as was erroneously reported. Albro was a regular walking arsenal when captured. He carried a pistol, razor, long knife and a sharp-pointed file. There is no room in the Goldsboro asylum for the negro.

PRAISE FOR SADIE MARTINOT

The Richmond Times Dispatch of yesterday says of Miss Sadie Martinot, in "His Excellency the Governor" which will appear here in the Academy to-morrow evening:

"His Excellency the Governor," a comedy written in a delightful vein of humor, and played by a most capable company, at the head of which was Sadie Martinot, was presented at the Academy yesterday, matinee and evening.

The play is one in which there is no straining for the comedy element. The bright comedy runs its course so smoothly and with so little effort, that the audience keenly enjoys every line and every scene, without losing its dignity or becoming unduly hilarious. The curtain falls on an act when the audience least expects it.

There is no leading up to a climax. The final scene of each act comes in the natural order of thing, without giving any noisy warning of its approach.

Miss Martinot, as Siena, the "evening star," was fascinating in manner and speech, a buoyancy and spirit pervading her work that made it irresistible. At no time was her work anything but that of a finished artist. She was frivolous, dainty and charming at one and the same time, but her methods were always subdued and never over-reached the mark.

Mr. William Webb, as John Baverstock, the private secretary, was quaintly droll in his humor and was oddly comical in his make-up. He received in the second act most emphatic demonstrations of the approval of the audience.

Miss Jane Wheatley was quite effective as Ethel Carleton, and Miss Adelaide Colton was all that could be desired as Mrs. Wentworth Bolingbroke.

Mr. W. A. Whitecar, whose last appearance here is still fresh in the memory of theatre-goers, was satisfactory as the Governor, as were also Messrs. Roy Clements and W. G. Renier in their respectives roles.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, JANUARY 17.

A FEW WORDS WITH THE HOWLERS.

The Charlotte Observer a few days ago read a sound lesson to a newspaper which berated the spirit of so-called "commercialism." The Observer in the Caldwelldian directness and lucidity which characterizes the editorial utterances of that paper, showed that almost every human endeavor and spirit of enterprise is "commercialism," and pungently exposed the sap-headedness that drivels out stuff of the anti-commercial variety.

There are a species of politicians in this country who from purely demagogical motives or from an innate spirit of anarchism have howled out "anti" doctrines until some very well meaning but altogether unsuspecting people have been impregnated with the idea that some of these politicians are statesmen, and, without doing their own thinking, have absorbed enough of their virus to be brought to the belief that some of these demagogic ullulations of the period are among the political issues of the day.

For one we are glad that the spirit of commercialism has invaded the South, for it is evidence that the spirit of virility is taking the place of the dry rot that has so long retarded the growth of many sections of the South. Commercialism is another name for enterprise and thriftiness, and along with it we want to see a crop of politicians who will have brains enough to keep up with modern progress and take the places of the species whose main chance for office is bush-whacking and fanning the air with dismal howls. Commercialism of the straightforward kind is what we want through the South, and commercialists of the swindling variety are what we want in the penitentiary.

The evidence of a nation's vitality is that it is hunting for business. The fact is, the great conflicts between civilized nations in modern times are the result of commercial and industrial competion. The growth of enterprise and industries creates the necessity for trade, and leads the most advanced nations of the world to seek trade beyond their own borders. With the growth of populations it is necessary to provide remunerative employment for the people, and it is by means of manufacturing that this is largely done in the nations of the old world. In America we have unlimited agricultural resources but as "diversified industry is a nation's prosperity," the United States is also becoming one of the great manufacturing countries of the world. This accounts for the fact that we are also hunting trade in the markets of the world and that we are getting in the mix-up with the leading nations when there is a trading point in sight. This is why the scoop of the Philippines was made; this is why we have interests in China and Corea; this is why we are making acquaintances with the Emperor Menelik, of Abyssinia; and it is the reason why we have taken advantage of the misbehavior of Panama to construct the isthmian canal.

The conflict to-day between Russia and Japan was brought about by the competition of their commercial interests. Each wants a cinch in Manchuria and Corea, where the "open door" can be kept over half-way shut, if it comes to that. Each nation in the world is simply looking out for itself, and the race is one for commercial supremacy. In this age of machinery, technical knowledge and physical science the ability to produce manufactured articles is constantly on the increase, and the natural result is that after the home markets are overstocked, there must be a hunt for foreign markets.

In all this scramble for trade supremacy the United States is not going to get left, but any gang that wants Uncle Sam to sit down and hold his chin while something is doing will inevitably get left. Southern Democrats are not of that sort, and in this race for commercial supremacy we want to see Uncle Sam get such a gait on him that we can play marbles on those attenuated coat-tails of his. However, we don't want to see him stop to do any jack-knife trick or go up against any body with a gold brick.

The Atlanta Journal has the STAR's thanks for a large and most excellent lithograph portrait of the lamented Gen. John B. Gordon. At the bottom of the portrait is a beautiful poem, "The Man of the Twelfth of May," written by the late Judge Robert Falligant, of Savannah, a gifted and able son of Georgia, whom we knew well.

Domestic Troubles.

MONUMENT TO GEN. GORDON.

It is very appropriate that the first proposition to erect a monument to the memory of General John B. Gordon should come from his native State of Georgia, but it is a sentiment which rises spontaneously in the South.

General Gordon belongs to the South, and from Maryland to Texas the people of the Southland will vie with the Georgians in honoring the great soldier, the unsullied statesman, the silver-tongued orator the true patriot, the irreproachable private citizen—the pure chivalric, and great hearted John Brown Gordon.

Without a monument the memory of Gordon will go down to future generations, for his superb character, his achievements on the field of battle, his services in re-uniting his country, and his noble worth will make his name an examplar for centuries to come. The South, however, in loving homage for its true son, should perpetuate his name in marble, in granite and in brass.

Of General Gordon, the Atlanta Journal says:

Excess of praise is unseemly, even as a tribute to the honored dead. But an honest search after the source of Gordon's superb power can not fail to show that the fountain of his strength was not merely in his right arm, nor his keen, flashing blade, nor yet in his alertness of mind and vigor of movement, but in the meeting of these qualities with a pure spirit—these sterling virtues, fused behind the crystal of his soul, forming the true mirror of knighthood.

Of him it can be truly said, as of the Knight of old: "Ulysses has gone on his wanderings, and there is no one left in Ithaca strong enough to bend his bow."

These are but an inkling of the panegyrics that have been paid to General Gordon, and we only wish we had space to even produce the fulsome, generous and unstinted opinions expressed of the Great Southerner by the press of the North.

We hope the movement to erect a monument to the immortal Gordon will be swiftly carried out, and if readers of the STAR desire to make a contribution for that purpose we will gladly receive it and forward it to the monumental association that will be organized at Atlanta.

Reuben Brown, a negro, is in jail at Lawrenceburg, Ind., charged with the fiendish murder of Miss Rosa Kaiser. The Indianapolis Sentinel says it was the most heinous murder ever committed in Dearborn county and it is feared that Brown will be lynched. He was traced to Kentucky and captured.

CURRENT COMMENT.

— The proposition down in Georgia to confine the education of the negro to the amount of money he pays in school taxes would do credit to the man who blows out the gas.—Norfolk Public Ledger.

— A Philadelphia man claims to be able to bleach negroes by using the X ray. This looks like another scheme to drive Senator Tillman out of politics.—Detroit Free Press.

— Through the death of Gen. Jno. B. Gordon the South loses one of her foremost leaders—a gallant soldier, a trusted counsellor, a broad-minded and useful public man.—New York Tribune.

— Major Robert Stiles, of Richmond, author of "Four Years Under Marse Robert," says Gen. Gordon in battle was the most glorious human being his eyes ever looked upon. He describes him in the first day's fight at Gettysburg, his face radiant, his figure erect, mounted on a splendid ebony charger, with gleaming eyes and proud arched neck. The rider fairly stood in his stirrups and, bareheaded, waved both hands, while his sonorous voice rolled out such exhortations as only he knew how to make to soldiers. Thus they charged, with the great black charger joyful in the midst of the flashing muskets.

— The Democratic members of the Maryland Legislature decided to reach the desired end of suffrage restriction by means of a constitutional amendment and not through a constitutional convention. At one time the plan for a constitutional convention was much in favor, but upon second thought the leaders concluded that the risk of the plan was too great. The Sun says "the risk is, first, that the bill may be defeated and that would injure the prestige of the organization; second, Republicans might elect a majority of the delegates and put such a Constitution upon the State as the Democrats would not like. It is believed that all the office-holding classes would oppose a convention, and that they would be reinforced by the main body of the Republican party as well as by the most powerful corporations." — Richmond Times-Dispatch.

A Very Close Call.

"I stuck to my engine, although every joint ached and every nerve was racked with pain," writes C. W. Bellamy, a locomotive fireman, of Burlington, Iowa. "I was weak and pale, without any appetite, and all run down. As I was about to give up, I got a bottle of Electric Bitters, and after taking it I felt as well as I ever did in my life." Weak, sickly, run-down people always gain new life, strength and vigor from their use. Try them. Satisfaction guaranteed by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. Price 50c a bottle.

Dr. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK WOMEN.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Winston-Salem Sentinel: Gov. Aycock feels that it is time that some of the critics of his exercise of his pardoning power should ask his pardon.

— Charlotte News: We learn from the Raleigh Post that Mr. Bryan is coming to North Carolina to deliver some lectures, at an early date. North Carolina is not in favor of him for the next Presidential nomination, but the latch string will be out in every city for the distinguished private citizen of Nebraska.

— Dunn Guide: The year 1904 promises to bring with it many important changes in Lillington. During the year several handsome buildings will be erected, both dwellings and business houses. Several valuable lots have recently been purchased for that purpose. Improvements about the court house have already commenced.

— Raleigh Times: "King" Kelly, North Carolina's foremost professional ball player, was in the city this morning and left this afternoon for Charlotte, where he will sign a new man to-morrow for his nine. He says the league will be a pride and credit to the South, and that from the present bright prospects there will be some mighty good playing this season.

— The proposed trip to Cuba, inaugurated by the Southern Furniture Journal of High Point will probably be made in February. Messrs. Farriss and Jones of the Journal have just returned from Washington where they went to see the officials of the Southern Railway Company in regard to same. It is gotten up for the benefit of the furniture manufacturers, and the trip will consume about eight days. Quite a number will go. It is expected that a very liberal rate will be secured.

— Winston Tobacco-Journal: Not in years have growers been forced to wait so long for a favorable period for hauling their tobacco as this season. Great inconvenience has been experienced as a result. Owing to growers not being able to strip and handle their tobacco, little buying has been done. Many of the warehouses on the new markets will be forced to continue operations until late next spring. The people who usually secure work in the warehouses during the fall and the winter have been forced in many cases to secure other work. As soon as the crop can be handled, buying will start with a rush.

— Now since there seems to be no early prospect of an electric line between High Point and Winston, there is talk of connecting High Point and Winston by an automobile line. Since the roads are to be macadamized, such a line could easily be operated. Conveyances that would accommodate 15 to 20 people could ply between these places as often as occasion demanded. It is thought that $15,000 would give a good service to begin with and that the fare would be a nominal one. Parties from another State have looked into the matter and are sanguine in the belief that such a line would pay.

— Raleigh correspondence of the Charlotte Observer: Our of the most amusing church complications ever known here is now causing no little talk. The influential members of one church warmly recommended one of the members for a position in the dispensary. He has that position and is filling it very well. Now one section of the same congregation demands that he be expelled from membership on the ground that he is selling liquor. One of the leading men in the church remarked to-day that none of the members who had any influence were back of this movement to oust the man in question. He added that this church had prayed for the success of the dispensary election and wondered whether the people who wanted to turn out this man had united in that prayer.

TWINKLINGS.

— "Of course, when two loving hearts are happily wedded they really become one." "Yes, but you can't get a servant girl to consider them any less than 'two in family.'"

— She (at the races for the first time)—Why, what's the matter? Where's our horse? He—Scratched at the post. She—Don't be silly! horses don't do that; only cats scratch at a post.

— "John!" whispered John's wife, "I'm thoroughly convinced there's a burglar downstairs." "Well, dear," replied her husband, sleepily, "I hope you don't expect me to have the courage of your convictions."

— Ragson Tatters—Goe! I hope dem Japs jumps in an' licks de stuffin' out de Russians. Weary Willie—I guess dem Japs is pretty decent people. Ragson Tatters—Yeh; dey don't make no trouble fur nobody; dey ain't got no bath named after 'em.

Tess—I heard Miss Passay say that she "just hates a jealous man." Jess—I don't that she does. Tess—Nonsense! She's just putting on airs. Can you imagine a man who could be jealous of her? Jess—That's just it; that's why she hates them all.

— "It's all right," said Yerner's platonic friend, "she will marry you." "Oh, don't make fun of me, Bess," protested Yerner. "You don't know anything about it." "Yes, I do. I told her to-day that I wanted you."

— "An automobile almost knocked a man down on Main street to-day. The crowd stood breathless for a while, but the next minute everybody cheered." "Because of the chaffeur's skill?" "No, the skill of the other man. He punched the chaffeur good and proper."

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

So uniformly successful has Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription proven in all forms of Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, and Leucorrhea, that, after over a third of a century's experience in curing the worst cases of these distressing and debilitating ailments, Dr. Pierce now feels fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in cash for any case of these diseases which he cannot cure.

IT STANDS ALONE.—The "Favorite Prescription" stands alone, as the one and only remedy for these distressingly common forms of weakness, possessed of such positively specific curative properties as to warrant its makers in proposing, and binding themselves to forfeit, as we, the undersigned proprietors of that wonderful remedy hereby do, to pay the sum of $500 in legal money of the United States in any case of the above diseases in which after a fair and reasonable trial of our treatment, we fail to cure. No other medicine for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments is backed by such a remarkable guarantee; no other medicine for woman's ills is possessed of the unparalleled curative properties that would warrant its manufacturers in making such an offer; no other remedy has such a record of cures on which to base such a remarkable offer.

Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and turn your back on any unscrupulous dealer who would insult your intelligence by attempting to foist upon you some inferior substitute, under the plea that "it is just as good." Insist on having the article which has a record of a third of a century of cures and which is backed by those willing to forfeit $500 if they cannot cure you.

In cases attended by a leucorrheal drain a solution of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets should be used conjointly with the use of the "Favorite Prescription." They are sold by all druggists, or sent post-paid to any address, on receipt of 25 cents in stamps. Send 31 cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY, Buffalo, N. Y.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The cotton market opened firm at an advance of five and eleven points, following higher cables than expected and estimates for continued light receipts. On the advance, however, long cotton was offered freely and appeared to be only in limited demand, so that the market ruled rather quiet, developing a sagging tendency that soon carried prices back to within a point or so of last night's finals. The declining tendency was encouraged by the actions of the New Orleans market which also made a disappointing response to the cables.

HARD TO EVEN HOBBLE.

Nothing is more dangerous, if neglected, than kidney disease. If allowed to run on it attacks every organ and every part of the body. Here's a Wilmington case in point, in which a well known citizen points the short way out.

E. Poezolt, merchant tailor, of Eighth South Front St., residing at 315 North Sixth street, says: "My wife used Doan's Kidney Pills and in her case they proved to be an effective remedy. She suffered with her ankles and could scarcely get down stairs in the morning. We thought it was rheumatism and her ankles would be all puffed up every morning so she could hardly hobble around. Since obtaining Doan's Kidney Pills at R. R. Bellamy's drug store and taking them she seems like another person. She is better in the morning, the swelling left her ankles and from the great relief she obtained we are only too glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to others."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. C., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

THE GIRL OPPOSITE

....By Leslie Gray

Copyright, 1903, by McClure's Newspaper Syndicate

Sudden starting of the elevated train fairly jerked Alston Davis into a seat. His armful of papers slid to the floor.

As he stooped to recover them his glance fell upon the face of the girl opposite.

It was delicate and sensitive, framed in a soft mass of hair. There was something attractive in the clear pallor of her cheeks and the appealing droop of the mouth. Yet Alston smiled grimly.

"One of the clinging type that I despise," he said to himself. "The kind that scream at a mouse, and all women are more or less of that variety. It only shows how stubborn Ursula is when she argues that they have courage. Courage!"

But the girl must have become conscious of his contemptuous scrutiny, for a flush rose to her cheek and she turned toward the window. Thus admonished, Alston betook himself to his paper.

He had just buried himself in the stock quotations when the sheet was almost torn from his hand. Some one lurched heavily against him.

He looked up in surprise not unmixed with anger, but the aggressor was already part way up the aisle. It was a woman who staggered blindly up the car. Now she turned uncertainly so that he could see her face.

She was no pleasant sight. She was black haired, black browed, middle aged and drunk. Dirt and grime had taken all vestige of respectability from her shabby clothes. A rusty black bonnet was perched rakishly on the back of her head. From beneath this gray-black locks straggled. On one cheek was the mark of a bruise. As she again lurched past, evidently groping for the door, her eyes were fixed in a glassy stare. Her lips muttered unintelligibly.

Alston's ear caught a sigh that was half a sob. The girl opposite was gazing at the woman with fascinated, fear dilated eyes. Others in the car were watching—and smiling. Now, as a lurch of the train flung her into an empty seat, there was an audible titter. Not a hand was raised to help her.

In a minute she was on her feet again, but the shock had turned her round, and she began a second labored passage up the car.

The girl had sunk into a miserable little heap. Alston watched her half pityingly, half anxiously. "She was just the kind of a girl to faint away," he told himself.

As the woman passed he caught among her mutterings the word "Twenty-third." Evidently that was the station where she wished to get off. Some one would have to help her. Who? The motorman stood stolidly on the platform between the cars. Alston comforted himself with the reflection that it was no business of his if a woman got so jolly drunk she could not take care of herself. City life superinduces a certain hardness.

To quiet his guilty conscience he turned again to the girl.

She, too, had caught the word "Twenty-third." It was the next station. She looked around appealingly. She was the only woman in the car. The men were engrossed in their papers or smiling broadly at the fun.

Her face whitened into determination. She got up hastily and touched the woman on the arm. The wretched creature turned aggressively, but something of the pain and pity in the young face seemed to pierce her befuddled brain.

"Twenty-third street," she said thickly, while a fatuous smile spread over her face.

"You want to get off at Twenty-third," the girl repeated gently. "Yes; I know. I will help you off."

Alston sprang to her side. "Let me help," he implored.

The girl turned to him defiantly. "No; thank you," she said in cool, even tones.

She drew her slender figure to its full height and took the woman's arm in hers. As she piloted the trembling figure down the long length of the car the smiles died away. There was such unveiled contempt in her flashing eyes that every man cowered.

Alston watched her in shamefaced wonder. This creature of fire and passion, this avenging goddess, was very different from the shy girl who had shrunk before his gaze.

Almost before he realized the train had stopped, had started and Twenty-third was left far behind. The girl opposite did not come back to her seat. She had left the car with her charge. As he thought of the gray eyes that had not flinched during that journey down the aisle the satisfied look of the self appointed judge had given place to a new humility.

* * * * * * *

"Alston, I want you to meet Miss Harcourt," his sister Ursula said as he strolled into her drawing room a night or two later. He saw a slender figure in pale gray and a delicate face framed in soft hair. His heart gave a great throb.

"You have often heard me speak of Elizabeth"— But she broke off in astonishment. A slow flush had crept up to the roots of her brother's hair, and, turning, she saw it was vividly reflected in the cheeks of the girl at her side.

"Oh, then you have met before? And I had been congratulating myself that I would be the first to make you friends!"

"Yes, we have met before," Alston answered unsteadily, in pity for the blushing girl, and he bent down in his courtliest manner and kissed a hand that trembled.

Ursula, observant sister, saw that explanations were due, for she stole away. Alston promptly found himself beside Miss Harcourt on the big divan.

"Can you forgive my impertinence in staring at you the other day?" he asked, too impetuous to waste time on preliminary conventionalities. "Oh, if you could only know how often I have thought of you since that afternoon and how I have loathed myself! Every man of us in that car was a cad, too fearful of public opinion to show that poor creature the commonest humanity. You put us all to shame by your courage. I dared not tell my sister that we were friends, but I want to be. Will you let me show you that I am not utterly a coward?" He held out his hand appealingly.

The girl gave him her hand. "I have thought about you, too," she confessed shyly, "but not as a cad. I was afraid that you would think me too forward. And I was rude too. You see, I recognized you from one of your photographs, and I knew you were not a coward. I knew I should meet you when I came here today"— She paused, and a rich tide of color swept over her cheeks.

Alston had meant to take her hand, but sudden intuition made him draw her to him instead.

"We shall be friends—and lovers," he whispered. And she did not say him nay.

Painting a Prince In Siam.

A well known New York artist, who has just returned from an extended journey in the far east, tells how he attempted to paint the portrait of a native prince in Korea:

"For more than three hours the prince sat motionless and without a word, like a statue. 'It is finished,' I told him at last, and he jumped up like a child and ran over to see the work. His delight was unbounded, and he seized my hand and began to shake it in a most enthusiastic manner.

"Suddenly he became grave and stared at the picture in a mystified way. He looked and looked, and then peered around at the back of the canvas. He seemed horrified beyond expression.

"'What is it?' I inquired.

"'You have not put in my jade ornament,' said he in despair.

"I had painted his portrait full face, and as the Koreans have a strange habit of putting small buttons of gold, silver, jade or amber behind the left ear these, of course, did not appear.

"My explanations did not satisfy the prince, so I did a rapid sketch of him in profile, bringing in the jade ornament.

"'That is all very well,' said he, 'but now where is the other eye?'"

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and, so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It allays itching instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. SUNDAY MORNING, JANUARY 17.

BRYAN IN NEBRASKA.

Interviewed in Regard to the Paper He Will Publish in St. Louis During the Democratic Convention.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

LINCOLN, NEB., Jan. 16.—William Jennings Bryan returned to Lincoln to-day and went immediately to his home at Fairview. He was in good health and spirits and said he had never enjoyed anything more than his quick trip to Europe. Mr. Bryan will remain at home until after next Monday in order that he may attend the banquet to be given in his honor Monday night.

Mr. Bryan was asked this evening if the Daily Commoner, which he proposes to publish at St. Louis during the Democratic convention would advocate the candidacy of any particular aspirant for the presidential nomination. He said:

"It will not; it will simply advocate Democratic principles. And," he continued, "I do not care to discuss anybody's candidacy. I have no favorites. All that I desire is that the candidate be a man whose Democracy is so well known that he will not be a subject of inquiry or discussion during the campaign, and whose fidelity to the principles of Democracy will not be questioned after the election. I simply want to do what I can to protect the party from any confidence game that may be attempted on the voters."

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Will Meet in Chicago on June 21st to Select Candidates for President and Vice President.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16. — Senator Hanna to-day issued the call for the Republican National Convention to meet at Chicago at noon, June 21st, 1904, to select candidates for president and vice president. The call makes the usual provision for the number of delegates, four at large from each State and two from each Congressional district, together with alternates. Delegates must be elected at least thirty days before the national convention meets. The delegates at large must be elected by State conventions and the district delegates by district conventions. Provision is made for the election of delegates from the District of Columbia. Republican electors and all other electors without regard to past political affiliation who believe in the principles of the Republican party are invited to take part in the selection of delegates.

The call is signed by M. A. Hanna as chairman and Perry S. Heath as secretary of the Republican national committee.

A VIRGINIA BANK ROBBED.

The Safe Dynamited and $3,000 in Silver Was Taken.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ROANOKE, VA., Jan. 16.—The National Bank of RockyMount, Franklin county, on the Roanoke and Southern railroad, twenty-five miles south of this city, was entered by robbers early this morning and the safe blown open. The burglars secured three thousand dollars in silver. A steel vault, containing twenty thousand dollars in gold and currency, was not molested, probably because the explosion was heard by a man sleeping over the bank, and alarm was given. This man went in search of the town sergeant and when the two returned the burglars had escaped. Dynamite was used to blow the safe, and was heard all over the village. Several strangers have been in the town for two days, and it is supposed these men did the work. Posses are scouring the country in all directions in an effort to capture the robbers. Judge John Wood, of the corporation court of this city, is president of the bank. The bank carries $8,000 burglar insurance. So far there is no trace of the robbers.

TERRORIZING BEIRUT.

Mutinous Turkish Troops Threatening to Sack the Town.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 16.—Mutinous Turkish troops have been terrorizing Beirut, Syria, for several days. The mutineers, who number about 1,500 men, were landed January 11th, from Yemen, Arabia, and immediately besieged the governor's palace, demanding the payment of about $80,000 in arrears and threatening otherwise to sack the town. The governor succeeded in pacifying the men and made them daily small advances, borrowed from the branch of the Ottoman bank, until Thursday, when the bank was closed, owing to its being a holiday. The latest accounts received here said the mutineers were threatening to sack the bank.

Door of Baggage Car Blown Open by Dynamite in Mistake for Express Car.

NEAR SANDERSON, FLORIDA.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MCCLENNY, FLA., Jan. 16.—Passenger train No. 76, east bound, on the Seaboard Air Line, was held up one mile east of Sanderson at 7:45 to-night by four white men. The door of the baggage car was blown open with dynamite, the robbers mistaking this car for the express car.

The engine was stopped by a volley of shots fired into the cab. The fireman and engineer were taken off the engine and escorted to the second-class coach, and the robbers ran the train ahead about a half mile when they blew open the baggage car. The train conductor went forward, but was fired on and driven back to the coaches. Conductor L. S. Peck, who was deadheading over the line, called for firearms and volunteers. B. H. Harrison, claim agent of the road; B. B. McCas, travelling auditor, and J. C. Williamson, travelling freight agent, responded, and the four went forward, opened fire and drove the robbers off. Conductor Peck took the throttle and ran the train four miles down the road. The robbers secured no booty and made no attempt to rob the passengers, but there was great excitement in the passenger coaches while the firing was going on. The sheriffs of Duval and Baker counties are on the trail of the robbers with bloodhounds.

THE ANTITOXIN TRUST.

Legal Proceedings to be Taken in Chicago by Medical Associations Under Anti-Trust Law—Statement.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—The Chicago Medical Society and the Illinois State Medical Association will, it is expected, begin legal proceedings against the antitoxin trust under the anti trust law. Secretary Pritchard, of the health department, said to-day that he had information to that effect.

An official statement regarding the "death trust" in antitoxin was issued to-day by Secretary Pritchard. The statement says:

"The antitoxin trust is nothing more or less than a traffic in human life. Three concerns, which manufacture and practically control the antitoxin supply of almost the entire country, have seen fit arbitrarily to advance the price of their product one hundred per cent. It should be noted that the increased prices quoted by the trust are the prices of the manufacturers to a jobber. This applies not only to Chicago but practically to the entire country. The publicity already given has aroused the medical profession to the highest indignation and will no doubt result in some steps being taken speedily to provide a supply of antitoxin from sources other than that of the combine."

IROQUOIS THEATRE FIRE.

Coroner's Inquest—Death of Another Victim—Chicago Churches Closed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—One witness was heard in the Iroquois Theatre inquest to-day and the jury then adjourned to inspect the interior of the theatre.

A lively dispute took place when Deputy Coroner Buckley and the jurors entered the building. A force of detectives employed by the owners of the building followed them around and insisted upon listening to all that was said. They moved only when Mr. Buckley threatened to have all the detectives arrested.

Rev. Charles I. Roberts, pastor of the Hamlin Avenue Methodist church, died to-day of injuries received in the fire. His death brings the total to 572.

As a result of orders issued by Building Commissioner George Williams, only eight of twenty-one churches closed for violations of the building law will remain with closed doors to-morrow. The others will open with either no limit to their attendance or with a capacity limited by Commissioner Williams to a degree considered safe.

A PLOT FRUSTRATED.

Plan to Kill Unless $15,500 in Cash Was Forthcoming.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, ILL., Jan. 16.—A plot involving a plan to kill and obtain letters and photographs unless $15,500 in cash was forthcoming, was frustrated to-day by Mrs. Hollis Thurston, daughter of the late Charles T. Nash, a Board of Trade commission broker, her brother William Nash, J. E. Ingram, their attorney, and several detectives.

Under arrest charged with the plot is James Tilbery, of London, a coachman in the employ of the Nash family. Tilbery was arrested at the Nash home at the moment Mrs. Thurston placed twelve crisp $1,000 bills and one $500 bill in his hands. On his person were found a dagger and two revolvers, and it is charged he threatened to kill Mrs. Thurston, unless she gave him the money he demanded for the return of certain letters he said he had received from Mrs. Thurston. Most of the letters are forgeries, according to Mrs. Thurston. They were addressed to the coachman, who with a trained nurse had charge of Mr. Nash during his illness.

CONVICTED OF MURDER.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 16 —Charles Bonier, a man of 74 years, was to-night found guilty of murder in the first degree for killing Franz and Johanna Frehr, an old German couple, on November 19th, 1903. The verdict carries the death sentence with it. The Frehrs were murdered for their money, of which they kept a considerable amount at home. The murderer buried the bodies in a shallow grave in their own yard and proceeded to install himself and his housekeeper in their former home within a few feet of the mutilated bodies of his victims.

BECHLEL MURDER CASE IN ALLENTON, PA.

Thirty-four Witnesses Thus Far Called for the Prosecution—Some of the Testimony Heard Yesterday.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ALLENTOWN, PA., Jan. 16.—Thirty-four witnesses have thus far been called in the Bechtel murder case and the prosecution has not yet closed its case. There was little of interest in to-day's proceedings aside from the appearance of Alois Eckstein, Mabel Bechtels' accepted suitor, on the witness stand.

The district attorney to-day agreed to withdraw the indictment hanging over Weisenberg, provided the latter would go on the stand as a commonwealth witness. To this Weisenberg consented, but his testimony was unimportant.

Mrs. Probst, Mabel's sister, who was to-day recalled to the stand, testified that Weisenberg had said that for five dollars he could have both Eckstein and Mabel put out of the way.

Jennie Conrad, a young woman employed at the St. Charles, this city, testified that Mabel Bechtel and Weisenberg visited her at the hotel.

Counsel for the defence asked the witness a question concerning the character of the hotel. The district attorney objected and defendant's counsel said: "I believe we can show the reputation of a house as well as that of a person. We wish to do this because it is part of the defence's theory that Mabel received her injuries in a house of that character. We further wish to show the nature of the place.

The objection was sustained and the witness was excused.

Mabel Strunk, who was a friend of Mabel Bechtel, testified that on one occasion she had heard Miss Bechtel and Eckstein quarrelling. Eckstein accused the young woman of drinking and associating with other men.

"When Eckstein and Mabel quarrelled, did you hear the exact accusation Eckstein made?"

"Yes; Eckstein said that he saw Mabel taken into the City Hall while she was drunk."

David Weisenberg told of his being with Mabel on Sunday evening. He said he sent a note to her on Monday morning by a messenger. The boy returned, stating that Mrs. Bechtel said Mabel had gone driving.

Alois Eckstein, the suitor of Mabel Bechtel, said he had the free run of the Bechtel home. He was there on Sunday and left at 7 P. M. with Mabel. She said she was going to meet Weisenberg. Eckstein said he pleaded with her not to do so and reminded her of their engagement. When Eckstein got there Monday evening, Mrs. Bechtel seemed cold and reserved, and Tom watched him over his paper. Eckstein said: "I saw Mabel on the trolley car." Mrs. Bechtel answered: "No you did not." He said Mrs. Bechtel quoted Weisenberg as saying that $5 would cause Eckstein and Mabel to be buried.

Eckstein told of a conversation he had with Tom during their incarceration in the police station just prior to the latter's suicide. Eckstein wanted to go to Mabel's funeral. Tom said: "I don't want to go. I cannot face it."

Later, Tom asked him: "Would not you like to die with me? How nice it would be if we could die together."

Police Sergeant Frank G. Roth testified that at the coroner's inquest he gave his opinion to Mrs. Bechtel that Tom had struck Mabel, doing so harder than he intended, and causing her death. Mrs. Bechtel replied: "No, poor Tommy did not do it."

BOLD BURGLARS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Burglars entered a cafe on Mercer street, one block from a police station, early to-day and cut the bottom out of a safe weighing 1,700 pounds, after moving it into a lavatory twenty feet from where it had formerly stood, and took the money it contained, securing about $500.

In the adjoining building, into which the burglars first broke in order to effect an entrance to the saloon from the rear, were found sectional "jimmies," drills and chisels of the finest steel, and tools of which the police say they have never seen the equal. The moving and opening of the safe, it is said, must have taken the burglars at least three hours.

CAMPVILLE, FLA., Jan. 16.—Seaboard train No. 63, from Tampa, to Jacksonville, was fired into near this place to-day, one load of buckshot passing through a window of the white passenger coach. No one was hurt. The train was stopped and the crew spent fifteen minutes looking for the offender, but no one was found.

YOUNG GIRL KILLED.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Jan. 16.—Mary Mehallick, fourteen years old, of Summit Mines, two miles from here, was shot in the head and instantly killed this evening by John Hudock. The young girl, in company with Joe Mehaldick and his bride were returning from Connellsville where she acted as bridesmaid at the wedding. The men of the party began to celebrate by firing revolvers after leaving the city limits and continued all the way to the Mehaldick home. Hudick, who boards at Mehaldick's house, after firing his revolver jumped into the carriage, and remarking that his pistol was empty put his hand over the muzzle and pulled the trigger. The ball passed through his hand and penetrated Mary Mehaldick's forehead, killing her instantly. Hudick was arrested charged with murder, though he protested that the shooting was accidental.

COLORADO MINE TROUBLES.

Former Congressman Glover Gives Out an Address from the County Jail.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CRIPPLE CREEK, COLO., Jan. 16.—Former Congressman John Glover, who broke his military parole by sending a letter to Colonel Verdeck Berg and was arrested yesterday, gave out an address from the county jail to-day in which he declares the conditions of the parole were unendurable and such as only a despot would impose. He says:

"Governor Peabody may imprison miners and obscure men and weaken their cause before the public by charging them falsely with many crimes, but he cannot do it with me. In my case the question of arbitrary power, used at discretion, must distinctly and solidly arise and be settled to his ruin if not sustained."

Major McClelland, with a squad of soldiers, took five prisoners from the bull pen at Camp Goldfield to-day and marching them to the eastern line of the county commanded them to travel and never return.

CZAR CONTINUES TO TALK PEACE.

But It is Practically Certain Russia Will Not Accept Japan's Propositions.

RUMORS IN ST. PETERSBURG.

Including Report that a Naval Fight Had Occurred at Vladivostock—Situation Summed Up by the Japanese Minister in London.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 16.—It is already practically certain that Russia will not accept Japan's last propositions as an entirety. Russia is ready to agree to certain points, but on others the Foreign Office believes Russia cannot yield. The officials are of the opinion that the way is open for continuing the negotiations and there is no indication that Russia will seek to delay her answer, which probably will be ready in a few days. The Czar continues to talk peace, and the dowager Czarina, inconversation, remarked: "War is a horrible thing. There will not be war."

In the meanwhile Viceroy Alexieff and Baron de Rosen, as well as the Foreign Office, are studying the Japanese document. Army and navy circles continue pessimistic.

The best feature of the situation is the fact that the Japanese reply has in no sense the character of an ultimatum. It is couched in pacific terms, does not fix a time limit, and the acceptance by Russia of certain of the propositions therein mark an advance toward a settlement.

Many rumors are afloat, including a report that an actual naval fight has occurred at Vladivostock.

The Situation Summed Up.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—In peculiarly frank language Baron Hayashi, after consultation with the Foreign Office to-day, summed up the situation for the Associated Press as follows:

"I only hope the Czar will give us peace, but my hopes are not strong. If we go to war it will be for issues whereon both America and England have insisted diplomatically. We have received no pledges from any country that in the event of defeat it will step in and save us from being absorbed by Russia. We cannot count even in extremities on the armed support of any nation in the world. It would be a struggle to the death. Perhaps we are not strong enough to fight Russia. There are two opinions about that."

Baron Hayashi intimated that he thought Japan was bound to be beaten in the end.

"If we were beaten," the minister resumed, "Russia would take Corea and Manchuria by right of conquest, and possibly Japan. No power on earth could then dislodge her from central China and all the Far East. I am sure it is better to go to war when you know you are right, even if defeat is possible, than to see your independence submerged under a continual aggression that is bound to absorb you eventually. Nothing can avert war between Russia and Japan in future years, even if peace is procured now, so long as Russia pursues her present Far Eastern policy.

"The American action in enforcing the opening of the Manchurian ports was a splendid example of honest diplomacy. It was a straight forward step which contrasts favorably with Russian methods. No other nation, except Great Britain when the British admiralty bought the two Chilian warships, has taken any practical step to live up to its diplomatic demands upon Russia anent the Far East. We believe we are now fighting a diplomatic battle in behalf of America and Great Britain, but if only war can settle it we know we shall receive assistance from neither. We are prepared to fight out our own battle and take the consequences.

Situation in Corea.

SEOUL, Jan. 16.—The American guard at the United States embassy has been increased. Sixty additional marines arrived here last night and are quartered in the city at the electric power company's building. The native press is slightly offensive to foreign residents, and it is quite possible there will be yet trouble with Corea. Troops now guard all the foreign residences, probably in sufficient numbers to keep the natives in check should they begin to make trouble. Foreigners cannot be considered in danger. A German man-of-war has just arrived at Chemulpo.

A change in the personnel of the government has begun in favor of the Japanese, and as the people have been more angry with the government than the foreigners, it is likely that this change will completely pacify them.

The American authorities have taken the precaution to provide male escorts for women and children of that nationality while on the streets.

The View in Paris.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—Official sentiment concerning the Russo-Japanese situation is rather less buoyant to-day. It was explained that while the conditions are not hopeless, they are strained. Although no information is given as to the grounds for the present feeling, it probably is due to the receipt of fuller information regarding the nature of Japan's latest demands.

One of the foremost members of the diplomatic corps, who has been in communication with the French government, said to-day that a strong feeling existed in the highest official quarters that Japan had gradually enlarged her demands until those of to day went considerably beyond those at first presented. Moreover, it is the belief of the officials here that Japan's steady augmentation of her demands is due largely to her belief that Russia is desirous of avoiding war, and that therefore it is safe to push her demands to the furtherest limits.

Officials regard this as one of the most dangerous features of the situation, as Russia's desire to avoid war has encouraged Japan to develop her claims until they are far beyond those Russia at first was ready to concede. In particular, it is the official view that Japan's present demands for the integrity of China and full recognition of Chinese authority over Manchuria represents a considerable and important advance over the early representations. It is pointed out that at the outset Japan, and practically all the powers, recognized Russia's special interests in Manchuria; but the view now prevails among the officials and diplomats here that Japan's demands seek to minimize and restrict those special interests within impossible limits.

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 16.—The Ekaterinoslav and Kassan, belonging to the Russian volunteer fleet, arrived to-day.

Statements from Constantinople regarding the desire of the Russian Black sea fleet to pass the Dardanelles are flatly denied in competent quarters here.

Quality is what makes price. If Barnett's Vanilla Extract was no better than other extracts its price would be the same. Once tried always used.

SENT BACK TO FRANCE.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Gabrielle Bompard, the French woman who thirteen years ago assisted Michael Eyraud to commit a murder which stirred Paris at the time and whose trial attracted wide attention on account of the appeal to hypnotism as a defence, arrived on the Lucania to-day but was immediately apprehended by immigration inspectors and ordered deported on the ground that she was an ex-convict, having but lately served out the sentence imposed for the murder.

Gabrielle and Eyraud in 1890 conspired to kill and rob Toulsaint Gouffe, a well-to do bailiff. They enticed Gouffe to her apartment and she then assisted Eyraud to strangle him. After the murder she came to America with Eyraud, but later returned to Paris and urged by a young man, with whom she had fallen in love, confessed her share in the crime.

At her trial it was contended that she believed that she was a hypnotic subject, and a hypnotic expert tried to secure permission to hypnotise her in open court and have her enact the crime, but the jury voted against the experiment. She was convicted and sentenced to twenty years imprisonment.

AN INJUNCTION ISSUED.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—A writ of injunction stopped the holding of the Southern Industrial Association today. The injunction was issued by Judge Brentano, on the complaint of Herbert Miller, secretary of the association, and Wm. L. Eaton, a stockholder, who allege that Lincoln P. Goodhouse, president and manager of the association; Wm. C. Payne and E. C. Rossiter, a director, have been managing it for their own interests and that it has been badly conducted. The association was established November 11th, 1902, with a capital stock of $100,000 for the purpose of buying and improving land. It is said that 1,080 acres of land have been purchased in the State of Alabama for $10,860, $2,000 paid for stock and machinery and $8,000 for improvements. The profits for the year, it is contended have been less than $500.

The court is also asked to appoint a receiver for the association and restrain the secretary from transfering any of the stock.

MURDERER'S CONFESSION

J. Wilfred Blondin, Who is Undergoing Sentence of Life Imprisonment.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BOSTON, MASS., Jan. 16.—The Globe to-morrow will say:

A confession made by J. Wilfred Blondin, who was convicted of the murder of his wife Margaret and sentenced to life imprisonment in the State prison at Charlestown, has reached the State police. Blondin's confession is at variance with the claim set up at the trial by the authorities of Suffolk county, that Mrs. Blondin was murdered in the house on Green street, Boston, where the couple lived. In his statement Blondin says that he killed his wife in Chelmsford, Mass., within a short distance of the place where her body was found decapitated some days after the murder. He says that he strangled her by the roadside and carried her body into the woods and cut off the head with his knife. He then threw her head in a nearby stream where it was later found.

PANAMA ISTHMUS.

U. S. Warships Cruising Off the Coast. The Indian Commissioners.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

COLON, Jan. 16.—All the United States warships are cruising off the coast, except the flagship Olympia, the Dixie and the Topeka, and the torpedo boat destroyer Stewart.

The six San Blas Indian commissioners, including Chief "Joe" Howten, on the invitation of the naval authorities, visited the Olympia yesterday, previous to returning to San Blas. Rear Admiral Coghlan extended a courteous welcome to them. The commissioners were shown over the whole ship and were wonder struck at the novelty of the sights, seen for the first time in their lives. The Olympia's largest guns were a source of great astonishment to them. The Indians all appeared well pleased with the treatment they received and declared that the sympathy of their followers was on the side of Panama.

Shortly after leaving the Olympia the commissioners sailed for San Blas.
